Gala Success

Crane River Theater is off and running! We are excited by the enthusiastic support of the Kearney community and can't wait for the chance to showcase our inaugural season in the summer of 2010.

The board of directors would again like to thank everyone who helped to make our 2009 Gala a monumental success. We had over 400 people in attendance last August at the Merryman Performing Arts Center. The "Night of Broadway" featured several Kearney natives (Steve Barth, Brian Botsford, Brooke Bradford, Heather Pugmire and Crystal Cambbell) as well as performers from the Lincoln/Omaha area (Matthew Bross, Cami Philgreen and Adam Fielson).

This would be a great place for a picture from the Gala or something.

The enthusiasm shown by our Gala audience has been great motivation and shows a real desire for this kind of theater project in Kearney. We are, now, even more excited for our 2010 season!

FROM THE TREASURER'S DESK

Already we have a list of 64 registered patrons and an additional 50+ anonymous donors. Our support in the community is strong and we are encouraged!

Nearly all of the interest in our company came from the 2009 Gala. Help us spread the word!

Equally as exciting is the announcement that though there are several grants still in negotiation we have been approved for a grant funding the "Kids Explore Theater" classes through Platte Valley State Bank, and a sponsorship for "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" from Yanda's Music.

Our inaugural season would not be possible without this kind of amazing support. Thank you Kearney!

BUT WAIT! It's not all about money...

The harsh reality is that nothing in life is free and in order to make this endeavor a success, we simply must have financial support. No one is lining his pockets. Money donated to the theater goes toward the cost of production and artist salaries.

But know this! We are just as excited to have your attendance at our performances as we are to have your financial donation. Crane River Theater wasn't created solely to ask for your financial assistance. We're here for you, the audience.

Also, we know there are many in the Kearney community who would like to offer assistance, but simply are not in a position to do so financially. There will be volunteer opportunities available for Crane River Theater's first season. If you have a special talent that may prove useful please let us know. We look forward to this upcoming summer!
