

Building Character

A Traveling Leadership Workshop for Middle Schools

September 21 - October 23, 2020

Crane River Theater was created to serve the state of Nebraska and surrounding areas as a professional theater company providing a home for the presentation, education, and promotion of the arts. We provide the unique quality of recruiting professionals from across the country and mixing them with area artists to create exciting and innovative productions.

Building Character with Crane River Theater is an exciting new opportunity for your middle school students (grades 6-8), beginning in Fall 2020. This leadership workshop focuses on further developing the confidence and leadership skills of students who stand out as natural leaders among their peers. Our team of professional arts educators is available to come to your school between September 21st and October 23rd anytime during your school day.

Building Character features speakers Steve Barth, Artistic Director for Crane River Theater, who has directed productions in New York City and taught leadership workshops across the country, and Seth Mavigliano, Education Director for Crane River Theater. Their tactile and energetic presentation is sure to captivate and inspire your 6th to 8th grade students; establishing a strong sense of leadership that will echo throughout your school.
